

Dear friends and clients,

So here we are in another lockdown, and all the confusion and concern that that brings with it. We just wanted to put out a quick post to let you know that we aren't going anywhere between now and December 2nd! We will still be available to answer your queries and provide care for your pets where needed. At least this time we have an end date in sight (hopefully!)

We are however, restricted in the cases that we can see. In order to prevent unnecessary travel or meetings between people we are only permitted to see urgent cases and emergencies or cases where delay may result in welfare concerns for the animal. We can still provide second vaccinations to complete a course but routine annual booster vaccinations can safely be delayed for a month or so and so will have to be rearranged for a future date. Unfortunately, we will have to amend some scheduled non-essential appointments/procedures. We will contact you if we do have to reschedule.

There isn't any need to stock up with extra medication, supplies were maintained well through the last lockdown and we have no reason to expect issues over the next month

If we could ask you one tiny favour over the next few days it would be not to call us to check any of the above, our phone lines are pretty busy these days, and we don't want to prevent those in urgent need being able to get through to us.

Our thoughts are with all the individuals and businesses who are being adversely affected by both this second lockdown, and of course by COVID-19 itself.

Best wishes over the next few weeks from all of us here at Elands.
